

6516206391.txt

If people are willing to PAY for a superior service, why do the "free" services care? XM provides more of what I want, music, variety and information and less of what I don't, opinionated disk jockies that blab endlessly of their own agenda. If the local broadcasters are seeing a loss in listeners to the pay services, that should tell them something. Is it XM's fault the local broadcasters are too dumb to listen?

The NAB in it's petition 04-160 is looking for another government hand-out. Stop listening to them. Their message is wrong. The consumers should be the ones to decide the fate of XM.

Thank you